

February 12, 2026

Good for your resume

Lead Care Manager

Rewarding patient care, but management is condescending. I wish they were more understanding and kinder to staff. The culture is very cliquey and toxic.

August 16, 2025

The Office Has Fleas as of August 2025

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

A typical day at work:

Answer calls, complete care plans, and follow up with members, all while navigating unclear instructions, last-minute changes, and communication breakdowns between supervisors, management, and the staffing agency. Some days included working in unsafe conditions (e.g., flea infestation) with no accommodations.

What you believe you learned:

How to stay adaptable and keep performing despite poor communication, lack of support, and unequal treatment. I learned to advocate for myself and others, even in an environment that discourages open feedback.

Management:

Overloaded supervisors due to poor scheduling. Some managers were condescending and dismissive, prioritizing metrics over employee well-being. The COO often undermined supervisors instead of providing clear direction.

Workplace culture:

A culture of inequality between direct hires and CSL employees, with empty claims of "everyone is equal." Little genuine concern for staff health or morale. Communication issues were recognized internally but never addressed effectively.

The hardest part of the job:

Working under inconsistent and unclear leadership while being excluded from benefits and incentives that direct hires received, and dealing with unsafe work conditions.

The most enjoyable part of the job:

Helping members and knowing the work had a real impact on the community, even if leadership's priorities didn't reflect that mission.

Pros

Staff are very nice, The people we assist are great

Cons

Management constantly pressuring LCMs on their metrics, Ignoring the community aspect of our job

Ratings by topics

1.0

Work/Life Balance

1.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

1.0

Management

1.0 out of 5 stars for Management

1.0

Culture

1.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

March 23, 2025

Toxic micromanagement

Ecm

San Diego, CA

Save your time and energy and look elsewhere. No-one is happy. Everyone there is either looking for another job, just started or both. The insane turnover itself speaks volumes. Its all about numbers . You feel more like a telemarketer than real care manager helping people.

March 22, 2025

Do not work here

Anonymous

The CEO fosters a toxic and unhealthy work environment, where respect, professionalism, and teamwork are lacking. There is a clear disregard for diversity and inclusion, and the treatment of employees is often unprofessional and disrespectful. Communication is ineffective, and instead of collaboration, there is a culture of micromanagement and negativity.

If you're considering working here, I would strongly advise researching the company culture beforehand. Leadership sets the tone for any organization, and in this case, it has created a workplace that is more stressful than productive. I hope to see positive changes in the future, but as of now, it's not an environment I would recommend.

Ratings by topics

1.0

Work/Life Balance

1.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

1.0

Management

1.0 out of 5 stars for Management

1.0

Culture

1.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

March 10, 2025

Stay away

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

The CEO is unprofessional, those under her are the same. The nepotism is horrible. If you are related you get perks to work from home. The training is sub par. There is no structure. They have a contract to help those with Behavioral Health, Housing needs, etc. but they fall so short and are so behind. They do not take it seriously so therefore they do not train their staff with all the necessary tools to be efficient, an advocate for their clients as the contract states. Save your time, gas and headache.

Pros

none

Cons

terrible training

Ratings by topics

1.0

Work/Life Balance

1.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

1.0

Management

1.0 out of 5 stars for Management

1.0

Culture

1.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

April 23, 2024

Workplace Culture, Leadership, Flexible, Hands on Training,

Diversity

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

Overall, a great place to work prioritizes the well-being and growth of its employees, cultivates a positive and inclusive culture, and provides opportunities for meaningful work and advancement.

A workplace with a positive culture fosters collaboration, open communication, and mutual respect among colleagues. Employees feel valued, supported, and motivated to perform their best.

Effective leadership sets the tone for the entire organization. Leaders who are transparent, empathetic, and inspirational can empower employees, provide clear direction, and promote a sense of trust and confidence in the company's vision and values.

Ratings by topics

5.0

Work/Life Balance

5.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

5.0

Compensation/Benefits

5.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

5.0

Job Security/Advancement

5.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

5.0

Management

5.0 out of 5 stars for Management

5.0

Culture

5.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

April 22, 2024

Only if you need experience and/or a job for now

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

My typical day started with anxiety. This company definitely cares more about numbers over quality of care. I was anxious to meet my call quota. I had to have faith and courage to focus on giving quality help with my members and risk not meeting the quota. They are big on micromanaging which includes watching you with the cameras. I was constantly berated for not meeting quota even though I repeatedly requested non active members be removed from my caseload. Also they keep non active members on caseloads to boost their numbers. There are good team leads but they can only do so much because the supervisors are task masters that smile in your face but help with nothing. This place is polluted with favoritism. Get your experience and move on when you get it. Extremely high turnover rate.

Pros

Experience

Cons

Micromanaging, belittling, and favoritism

Ratings by topics

2.0

Work/Life Balance

2.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

2.0

Management

2.0 out of 5 stars for Management

2.0

Culture

2.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

April 4, 2024

Breach of Authority from Leadership, Toxic Work Environment.

Lead Care Manager

3635 Ruffin Road

DO NOT WORK HERE- absolutely toxic work culture, extremely poor power of Authority & lack of health leadership skills from CEO & management. Felt as if I was walking on eggshells every hour on the clock. Every job task is micromanaged, negative punishment & passive-aggressive behavior used against employees, favoritism targetted towards select few. Lack of encouragement, affirmation, and compensation growth to exemplary work demonstrated consistently even with High performing employees surpassing metrics & KPI's.

Pros

Consistent hours, overtime available, easy tasks.

Cons

Unprofessional passive aggressive behavior, false deadlines for growth/ advancement towards compensation, pressuring uncomfortable disciplinary action, Unfair wages, high volume technical difficulties unresolved, Lack of upkeep to working conditions

Ratings by topics

1.0

Work/Life Balance

1.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

1.0

Management

1.0 out of 5 stars for Management

1.0

Culture

1.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

March 28, 2024

Do not work here

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

Terrible management, turnover, and lack of training. Nepotism and unqualified personnel. They don't care about the patients, just the money and your numbers. Cameras to watch you work. Only upside were some of the coworkers who cared, stick together and last until you find another job!

Overall rating

1.9

Based on 10 reviews

5
4
3
2
1

Detailed ratings

Work-life balance

1.8

1.8 out of 5 stars for Work-life balance

Pay and benefits

1.7

1.7 out of 5 stars for Pay and benefits

Job security and advancement

1.7

1.7 out of 5 stars for Job security and advancement

Management

1.8

1.8 out of 5 stars for Management

Culture

1.8

1.8 out of 5 stars for Culture

What people are saying

What people like

Ability to learn new things

What people like

Ability to meet personal goals

What people like

Fair pay for job

Areas for improvement

Inclusive work environment

Areas for improvement

Trust in colleagues

Areas for improvement

Clear sense of purpose

Job title

Location

10 reviews

Sort

Selecting an option will update the page

NewestHighestLowest

February 12, 2026

Good for your resume

Lead Care Manager

Rewarding patient care, but management is condescending. I wish they were more understanding and kinder to staff. The culture is very cliquey and toxic.

Jobs at American TrueCare, Inc.

page 1 of 2

slide1 of 5

slide2 of 5

slide3 of 5

slide4 of 5

slide5 of 5

1 / 2

1 / 2

August 16, 2025

The Office Has Fleas as of August 2025

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

A typical day at work:

Answer calls, complete care plans, and follow up with members, all while navigating unclear instructions, last-minute changes, and communication breakdowns between supervisors, management, and the staffing agency. Some days included working in unsafe conditions (e.g., flea infestation) with no accommodations.

What you believe you learned:

How to stay adaptable and keep performing despite poor communication, lack of support, and unequal treatment. I learned to advocate for myself and others, even in an environment that discourages open feedback.

Management:

Overloaded supervisors due to poor scheduling. Some managers were condescending and dismissive, prioritizing metrics over employee well-being. The COO often undermined supervisors instead of providing clear direction.

Workplace culture:

A culture of inequality between direct hires and CSL employees, with empty claims of “everyone is equal.” Little genuine concern for staff health or morale. Communication issues were recognized internally but never addressed effectively.

The hardest part of the job:

Working under inconsistent and unclear leadership while being excluded from benefits and incentives that direct hires received, and dealing with unsafe work conditions.

The most enjoyable part of the job:

Helping members and knowing the work had a real impact on the community, even if leadership's priorities didn't reflect that mission.

Pros

Staff are very nice, The people we assist are great

Cons

Management constantly pressuring LCMs on their metrics, Ignoring the community aspect of our job

Ratings by topics

1.0

Work/Life Balance

1.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

1.0

Management

1.0 out of 5 stars for Management

1.0

Culture

1.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

March 23, 2025

Toxic micromanagement

Ecm

San Diego, CA

Save your time and energy and look elsewhere. No-one is happy. Everyone there is either looking for another job, just started or both. The insane turnover itself speaks volumes. Its all about numbers . You feel more like a telemarketer than real care manager helping people.

March 22, 2025

Do not work here

Anonymous

The CEO fosters a toxic and unhealthy work environment, where respect, professionalism, and teamwork are lacking. There is a clear disregard for diversity and inclusion, and the treatment of employees is often unprofessional and disrespectful. Communication is ineffective, and instead of collaboration, there is a culture of micromanagement and negativity.

If you're considering working here, I would strongly advise researching the company culture beforehand. Leadership sets the tone for any organization, and in this case, it has created a workplace that is more stressful than productive. I hope to see positive changes in the future, but as of now, it's not an environment I would recommend.

Ratings by topics

1.0

Work/Life Balance

1.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

1.0

Management

1.0 out of 5 stars for Management

1.0

Culture

1.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

March 10, 2025

Stay away

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

The CEO is unprofessional, those under her are the same. The nepotism is horrible. If you are related you get perks to work from home. The training is sub par. There is no structure. They have a contract to help those with Behavioral Health, Housing needs, etc. but they fall so short and are so behind. They do not take it seriously so therefore they do not train their staff with all the necessary tools to be efficient, an advocate for their clients as the contract states. Save your time, gas and headache.

Pros

none

Cons

terrible training

Ratings by topics

1.0

Work/Life Balance

1.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

1.0

Management

1.0 out of 5 stars for Management

1.0

Culture

1.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

April 23, 2024

Workplace Culture, Leadership, Flexible, Hands on Training,

Diversity

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

Overall, a great place to work prioritizes the well-being and growth of its employees, cultivates a positive and inclusive culture, and provides opportunities for meaningful work and advancement.

A workplace with a positive culture fosters collaboration, open communication, and mutual respect among colleagues. Employees feel valued, supported, and motivated to perform their best.

Effective leadership sets the tone for the entire organization. Leaders who are transparent, empathetic, and inspirational can empower employees, provide clear direction, and promote a sense of trust and confidence in the company's vision and values.

Ratings by topics

5.0

Work/Life Balance

5.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

5.0

Compensation/Benefits

5.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

5.0

Job Security/Advancement

5.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

5.0

Management

5.0 out of 5 stars for Management

5.0

Culture

5.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

April 22, 2024

Only if you need experience and/or a job for now

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

My typical day started with anxiety. This company definitely cares more about numbers over quality of care. I was anxious to meet my call quota. I had to have faith and courage to focus on giving quality help with my members and risk not meeting the quota. They are big on micromanaging which includes watching you with the cameras. I was constantly berated for not meeting quota even though I repeatedly requested non active members be removed from my caseload. Also they keep non active members on caseloads to boost their numbers. There are good team leads but they can only do so much because the supervisors are task masters that smile in your face but help with nothing. This place is polluted with favoritism. Get your experience and move on when you get it. Extremely high turnover rate.

Pros

Experience

Cons

Micromanaging, belittling, and favoritism

Ratings by topics

2.0

Work/Life Balance

2.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

2.0

Management

2.0 out of 5 stars for Management

2.0

Culture

2.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

April 4, 2024

Breach of Authority from Leadership, Toxic Work Environment.

Lead Care Manager

3635 Ruffin Road

DO NOT WORK HERE- absolutely toxic work culture, extremely poor power of Authority & lack of health leadership skills from CEO & management. Felt as if I was walking on eggshells every hour on the clock. Every job task is micromanaged, negative punishment & passive-aggressive behavior used against employees, favoritism targetted towards select few. Lack of encouragement, affirmation, and compensation growth to exemplary work demonstrated consistently even with High performing employees surpassing metrics & KPI's.

Pros

Consistent hours, overtime available, easy tasks.

Cons

Unprofessional passive aggressive behavior, false deadlines for growth/ advancement towards compensation, pressuring uncomfortable disciplinary action, Unfair wages, high volume technical difficulties unresolved, Lack of upkeep to working conditions

Ratings by topics

1.0

Work/Life Balance

1.0 out of 5 stars for Work/Life Balance

1.0

Compensation/Benefits

1.0 out of 5 stars for Compensation/Benefits

1.0

Job Security/Advancement

1.0 out of 5 stars for Job Security/Advancement

1.0

Management

1.0 out of 5 stars for Management

1.0

Culture

1.0 out of 5 stars for Culture

March 28, 2024

Do not work here

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

Terrible management, turnover, and lack of training. Nepotism and unqualified personnel. They don't care about the patients, just the money and your numbers. Cameras to watch you work. Only upside were some of the coworkers who cared, stick together and last until you find another job!

Rate your recent company

Share your experience to help others

April 16, 2023

I enjoy being able to show my skills. Leery of the micromanagement

Lead Care Manager

San Diego, CA

What is the best part of working at the company?

It's new and room for growth. There is lots of room to move up as the company is growing.

What is the most stressful part about working at the company?

Micro management. They say that they don't but they do. Many supervisors have pet peeves that are unrealistic in the environment.

What is the work environment and culture like at the company?

It is business like and employees are expected to dress as such. No casual days except Fridays and they still wish to control what we wear down to what shoes are allowed. However, they seem to be successful at what they do and it's exciting to be a part of a growing organization.

What is a typical day like for you at the company?

Very busy from start to finish.